Living With Cancer

Spanish-Speaking Patient Support Group

A diagnosis of cancer can come when you least expect it, and it changes your world completely.

You may feel anxious and have questions about what lies ahead. The opportunity to join a group of people who understand what you are going through can be very comforting.

Cancer*Care* is currently recruiting Spanish-speaking participants who have been diagnosed with cancer and are receiving a form of active treatment (which may consist of surgery, chemotherapy, radiation, hormonal treatments and/or advanced cancer treatment). This group is led by a professional oncology social worker and will run for twelve weeks.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Please contact our Hopeline at 800-813-HOPE (4673) or email supportgroup@cancercare.org.

Space is limited. Registration is required.

Viviendo con Cáncer

Grupo de apoyo para personas con cáncer en español

Un diagnóstico de cáncer le puede llegar cuando menos lo espere y de repente su mundo ha cambiado.

Puede sentirse ansioso(a) y tener preguntas acerca de lo que está por venir. La oportunidad de unirse a un grupo de personas que entienda lo que usted está pasando puede ser tranquilizador.

Actualmente Cancer*Care* está reclutando personas que han sido diagnosticados con cáncer y están recibiendo una forma de tratamiento activo (y puede consistir en cirugía, quimioterapia, radiación, tratamientos hormonales y/o tratamiento avanzado de cáncer). Este grupo lo dirige un trabajador social de oncología profesional y el grupo funcionará a lo largo de doce semanas.

PARA MÁS INFORMACIÓN

Favor de contactar nuestra línea de ayuda al 800-813-HOPE (4673) o mande un email a supportgroup@cancercare.org.

El número de plazas es limitado. Se requiere registrarse.
