Teens Talk: Loss of a Loved One With Cancer Teen Support Group

Experiencing the loss of a loved one brings many complex feelings. Sadness, anger, guilt, worry or even relief are common reactions as you grieve.

All of these feelings can be intense and overwhelming to experience. The opportunity to join a group of other teens who understand what you are going through can be very comforting. Come and connect with other teens through art, activities and discussion.

CancerCare is currently recruiting teens who have experienced the loss of a loved one to cancer within the last 18 months. This group is led by a professional oncology social worker and will run for twelve weeks.

Snacks and beverages will be provided.
