

BLOOD CANCER AWARENESS: RESOURCES FOR SUPPORT

CANCERcare®

Over 75 Years of Help and Hope

A virtual workshop on coping with blood cancer for patients and caregivers.

CancerCare and The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society will host an awareness event to provide an overview of resources for people diagnosed with blood cancer and their caregivers.

This program is open to national clients and is free, but pre-registration via Zoom is required.

DATE

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 2023 from 12 p.m. - 1 p.m. ET

In this workshop, CancerCare and The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society will discuss programs and services available to participants. A CancerCare oncology social worker will discuss coping with blood cancer as a patient and a caregiver. Participants can ask questions to learn more about accessing resources and programs.

This workshop will be held virtually using Zoom. If you are not able to use the video function, you will also be able to call into the workshop.

Register
Today!
