

Caring for Your Skin:

Interactive Skin Care Workshop with Christine Valmy

CancerCare is partnering with Christine Valmy to provide an oncology-focused, interactive skin care workshop. This workshop is in-person and will be led by oncology-trained estheticians. It will include a presentation about how to care for your skin at home while in treatment and provide step-by-step instruction on how to apply skin care products to your face.

The workshop is open to patients diagnosed with cancer living in New York or New Jersey who are in active treatment or those who have completed treatment within the last 18 months.
