Women's Cancers Program

Biweekly Live Support Group

A diagnosis of cancer can come when you least expect it. Suddenly your world has changed. You may feel overwhelmed and anxious and have questions about what lies ahead. The opportunity to connect with others living with cancer can help you feel less alone.

DESCRIPTION

CancerCare is offering a free, 8-week live support group for women identifying patients diagnosed with breast cancer or gynecological cancers in New York State who are receiving a form of active treatment (including surgery, chemotherapy, radiation, hormonal treatments and/or advanced cancer treatment) or have received treatment within the past six months. This group will provide the opportunity for women who have been diagnosed with cancer a safe space to learn, share their feelings, gather information and receive guidance while discussing the unique challenges of living with a cancer diagnosis including body image and view of self.

START DATE:

This group meets biweekly on Monday evenings, from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. ET. This group will utilize a secure video platform. Group members will still have the option to call in if they do not have access to video technology.
